

Dear Richard,

I add a few more sentences, changed a few words whose meanings seem slightly different from my intention (in red). The new paragraph in blue is suggested by Prof. Peponis. He did not see the statement yet. I will send him a merged draft. I know merging two different statements into one is not a good way, but from this stage I would like to reflect his ideas on our theme. So if the new version does not make sense, please see and check it as a crude draft. Again, I am so sorry for the urgent request. Sung.

- Let me know your time for helping me, I will also keep making a note.
