

Dear Marc,

Thanks for the images. I assume you are finalizing the essay.

Our catalog will be for sale from the beginning. So, the publisher, SPACE Magazine, requires permission from the contributors for all the images included.

- 1) As you suggested, SPACE might have some images, but I am not sure what the agreement regarding license fees are. I am forwarding this mail to Gyehyun PARK, who is responsible for editing.
- 2) The deadline for final design layout of catalog is next week, given the exact length of essay, and sizes/numbers of images are confirmed. So we do not have enough time to resolve the issues of credits and license fees.
- 3) These are good images. But if these are not directly related to your essay, I mean density, cities, building elements and parameters, and also to our theme – the FAR GAME - I am not sure how they fit into the catalog. In addition, even if we resolve all the problems, there may not be enough pages to include all the images.

So let me suggest this. While Gyehyun PARK and SPACE will consider this issue, you give us the draft before Monday morning (in Seoul). Please pick the best one or two shots from your point. We will discuss on Monday what we can do.

Best, Sung.
