

Dear Richard,

I tried to make short but clear concluding statements at Section 5. I deleted some sentences at the Curatorial Foreword and Section 1-3, which I thought redundant or too early to say, and use them at Section 5. So I merged all the sections including my 'Curatorial Foreword' and 'Foreword to Section 5' into a single file where I marked the deleted parts. From now on we need to color the revised parts in blue or red, so that the publisher can easily substitute the old texts without making mistakes. Please edit Section 5, reading Curatorial Foreword to Section 4. Once we finish these, and then let's move on to other remaining manuscripts.

I thank you enormously.

Best, Sung.

* I talked to Prof. Kyunmin Kim a few days ago and he said he will respond to you. So I presume he will deliver his essay to me shortly.