

Dear Richard,

We will open a homecoming exhibition of the Korea Pavilion on March 3 in Seoul. The attached is a short introduction, which will be sent by emails outside Korea for the promotion. I extracted most of the text from the catalog and from the previous press materials by the English promotion agency. The added parts are blue colored. Can you quickly check any grammatical errors without much change? Please let me know your time.

In the next 6 months, I will write two pieces of writing, one for the symposium at Australia and the other for the exhibition, Papers and Concrete at MMCA. You already helped me to edit them. I hope you can spare some time for helping me.

Best,

Sung
